Investment Policy

The healthcare sector is global and accessing this market as a UK investor can be difficult. The Company offers an opportunity to gain exposure to pharmaceutical, biotechnology and related companies in the healthcare sector on a global scale. The Company invests in large companies with market capitalisations of over U.S.$10bn, smaller companies below that size, as well as unquoted companies. The portfolio ranges from large multi-national pharmaceutical companies with multiple products to unquoted emerging biotechnology companies. The Company's investment policy allows gearing, through borrowing, of up to 20% of net assets and a net exposure to derivative investments (excluding swaps) of up to 5% of the portfolio. Equity swaps may also be used, counterparty exposure here is limited to 12% of the portfolio at the time of acquisition. Unquoted securities will not exceed 10% of the portfolio at the time of acquisition.

Commentary

In November, the NAV per share total return was +2.5%, the share price total return was +2.5% and the MSCI World Health Care Index was +1.8%, on a net total return, sterling adjusted basis.

Global equity markets rebounded sharply in November as the macro commentary on interest rates quickly switched from last month’s concerns over “higher for longer” to potential “rate-cuts in 2024”. Whilst healthcare stocks also rebounded in the month, the sector nevertheless lagged the broader market inflection as the FTSE All Share rose nearly 300 basis points, the S&P500 nearly 400 bps, and NASDAQ over 600 bps (all in sterling terms).

For the Company, important contributions came from Biotechnology, Life Science Tools, and Medical Technology. Emerging Biotechnology was the primary driver of excess performance in November due to stock picking and our overweight positioning, followed by Medical Technology (stock picking) and Large Cap Pharmaceuticals (stock picking and allocation).

The top contributor in the month was Intuitive Surgical. Shares in the robotic surgery company recovered after the “GLP-1” whiplash subsided as did rising investor optimism about a new surgical robot launch in early 2024. On the detractor side, the share price for U.S. managed care provider, Humana, sold off following a weaker than expected quarterly report in the month. Subsequent discussions of a merger with Cigna – the implications of which included an elongated deal timeline with significant regulatory risk – also weighed on the share price.

Additional important news flow over the past month included the presentation and publication of the SELECT trial, a large, global trial from Novo Nordisk designed to demonstrate the cardiovascular benefits of Wegovy (semaglutide) in obese patients. We note that the totality of the data presented was very positive from both an efficacy and safety point of view, with data consistently showing benefit across all metrics of metabolic syndrome. M&A activity in the biotechnology space also continued in November with five newly announced deals, including three large deals totaling over U.S. $22 billion announced in the five-day trading period ending 6 December 2023.

DISCOUNT/PREMIUM CONTROL

It is the Board’s policy to buy back the Company’s shares if the share price discount to the net asset value per share exceeds 6% on an ongoing basis. Shares repurchased are held as treasury shares. Treasury shares can be sold back to the market at a later date at a premium to the cum income net asset value per share. Shareholders should note, however, that it remains very possible for the discount to be greater than 6% for extended periods of time particularly when sentiment towards the Company, the sector and to investment trusts generally remains poor. Any shares left in treasury are cancelled around the time of the Company’s Annual General Meeting.

While buy backs may prove unable to prevent the discount from widening, they also enhance the net asset value per share for remaining shareholders and go some way to dampening discount volatility which can adversely affect investors’ risk adjusted returns.

At times when there are unsatisfied buying orders for the Company’s shares in the market, the Company has the ability to issue new shares or to re-issue treasury shares at a small premium to the cum income net asset value per share. This acts as an effective share price premium management tool.
